

Architekst™

Translation solutions for your business

Sometimes you need to talk nuts and bolts with engineers, when the accuracy of technical terms in your instruction manual is paramount.

Or your glossy brochure may require a craftsman's touch to coax nuance from its pages.

Why choose Architekst?

We care about the difference, and through us you can send out the right message to your target audience. We take pride in delivering a credible and competitive translation service, with the following key features:

- Global support

Offices in Belgium, the Czech Republic, Germany and the UK, serving clients throughout Europe and the US. Professional project management and flexible communications across the company.

- Resources

Over 2,000 high-calibre translation partners based world-wide, covering more than 100 languages in a wide range of disciplines.

- Skilled native speakers

We assign work only to native speakers of the target language required, and take care to select those with expertise in the relevant market sector.

- One-stop shop

Besides translation, we offer proofreading and typesetting.
