ABOUT US

IP TRANSPATE is one of the professional IP consultation and translation agencies. It has been known that intellectual property plays a huge role in economic and social development, the registration of IP rights, however, is difficult because of national legal barriers. We, including experts who deeply understand the IP field, provide consultations on IP matters so that any difficulties may be avoided when registering for the protection of intellectual property. In addition, we provide translation and localization solutions with accuracy, efficiency, confidentiality, and cultural nuance to create meaningful connections.

IP CONSULTATION

Intellectual property in this day and age is of such importance that it must be protected at the start of any business venture. By deeply understanding the local market and laws, we will bring you solutions that help overcome the barriers, consultations on patentability and keynotes for applications to meet the regulations, pre-filing advice, patent specification translation, patent drafting, pre-filing advice, required documents into the national phase, formatting and terminology to comply with the national IP law,... so that any difficulties may be avoided.

TRANSLATION

At IP TRANSPATE, we help you create valuable connections based on a deep understanding of the native culture and listening to your requirements to bring the most satisfaction to your choice, we do more than just translate words between languages – we adapt concepts, ideas and visions to ensure their relevance to the nuances of each culture.

LOCALIZATION

In order to disseminate your message across the globe, you need localization services to tailor your message to your target market. Each locality has its own nuances and dynamic vernacular. We are the local and familiar with the market in order to make sure that your message gets across so that it resonates with your target audience.

PROOFREADING & EDITING

IP TRANSPATE offers proofreading and editing services on existing translated documents. Our proofreading service enables you to receive consistent and accurate translations ready for desktop publishing. To ensure the highest level of accuracy, our professional linguists correct grammatical errors, including punctuation, capitalization, verb tense, consistency, spelling, and sentence structure. Your document is checked for clarity as well.

MTPE

Machine translation is becoming increasingly popular, emerging as a critical tool in the business translation services industry, and for good reason. However, the outcome falls short of expectations. That's because it lacks a professional human touch, necessitating the collaboration of robots and people.

SUBTITLING & OTHERS

Video is one of the most powerful and engaging mediums of communication thus far in all languages. If you create video content in your native language, then there are so many localization solutions available to you to reach your global audience.
