Brief note about our translators

We seek out, recruit, and retain the best translation professionals! It takes more than a keen intellect, multi-lingual skills, and literary expertise to be a certified translator. Our principal team is comprised of more than 700 certified/accredited translators located in the India and various regions of the world. In addition, we have complete access to a global network of more than 1200 certified freelance translation professionals. We are a people intensive business that can only be as good as the professional translators who do the work. It is work that cannot be done by translation machines or any translation technology currently available - at least not for the exacting and precise standards of financial, legal, medical, technical, and scientific documentation.
