Quality management system

Translation

Before starting the work, the text is always analyzed. Emerging issues are quickly resolved by our professionals. Linguists with high education provide qualitative services. All documents are checked several times.

Editing

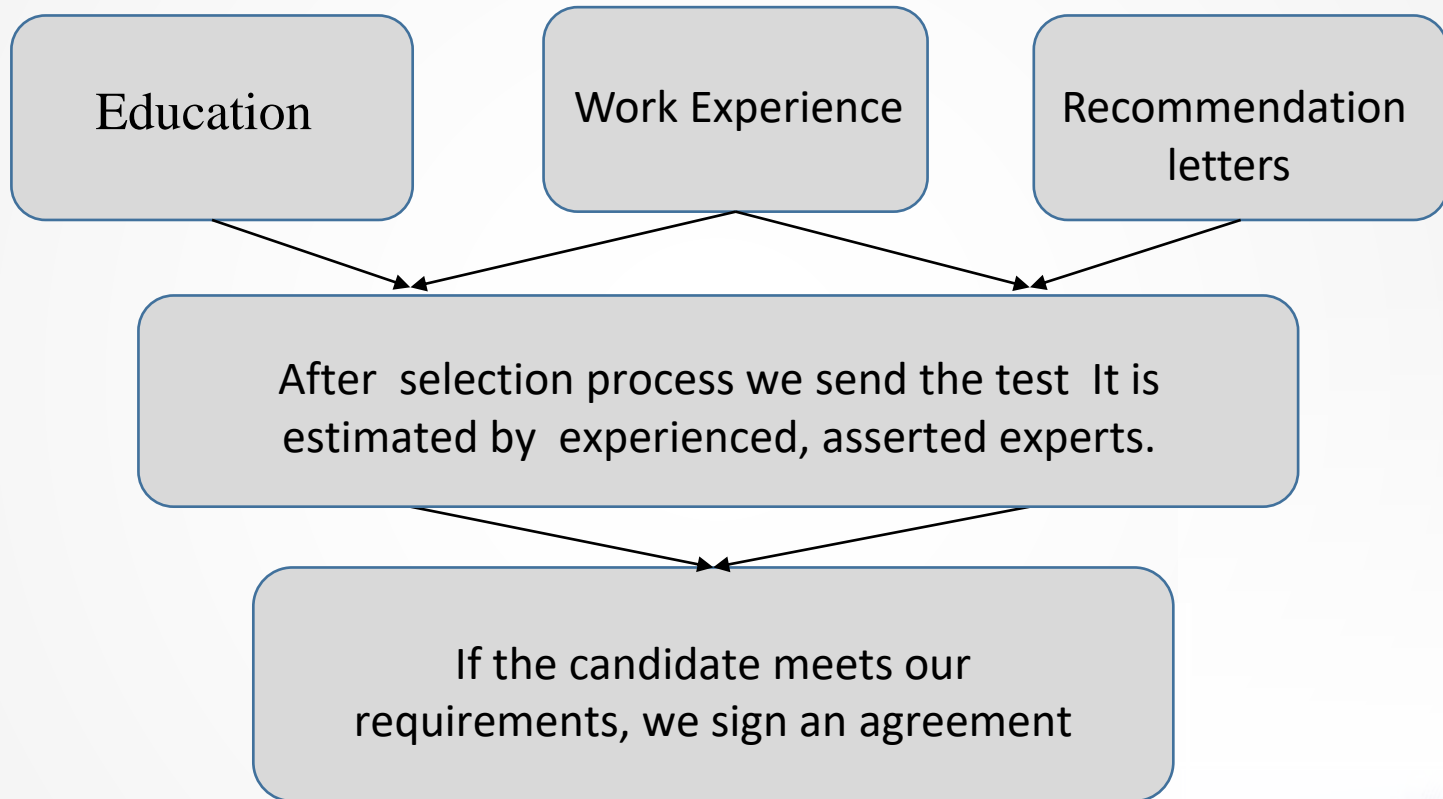

After translation we provide editing services. It is necessary in order to check the content, localize style and clarity. Our specialists take into account all subtleties, including grammar, spelling, punctuation.

Quality assurance

In most cases documents require superior accuracy of translation. No matter how experienced the translator is, and no matter how attentive the editor checking his work is – it cannot guarantee a complete absence of errors. That's why we use such programs, as Xbench, Linguistic Toolbox and many others. It helps us match the work with original, detect errors difficult for human perception - memory and attention.
