Personal Statement

I am an energetic and ambitious person who has developed a matured and responsible approach to any task I undertake, or situation I am presented with.

My interests in teaching and interpreting/translating began in my high school years : presenting class projects and participating in debates in addition to attending book clubs and my avid interest in classic English literature helped a great deal in improving my English language skills. As a result, teaching English in private schools and at home became easy and a career I could proudly be attached to.

In my university years, in summer breaks, I began undertaking projects that strive to improve the livelihood of faraway communities. These tasks and my studies in the social sciences helped me build a mature work ethic. After the completion of my studies at the university, I undertook various governmental and private vacancies. This all added up in excelling my educational and communication skills.
