

Dear Sir,

I was born in Mersin in 1988. I graduated from the department of Interpretation and Translation (French) at Mersin University. I live in Mersin but there are no restrictions for travel.

I know English in high level, because I studied on foreign languages (English) at high school. I constantly try to use this language in my daily life. Thanks to the French education at university, I got the opportunity to learn a 2nd foreign language. I translate in both. My translation fields are academics: public administration, economics, philosophy, social science and documentation.

I gived service of translation as a voluntary to the high-level officers, who came for the inspection from abroad, in the pipeline of Mediterranean Games (2013). In addition, I worked as an executive secretary and translator in a logistic firm for 2 months.

And I have been actively working with two translations agencies for 2 years.

I am aware of my responsibilities and open to learning new things; additionally, I am an analytical thinker, stubborn and determined to achieve results. You can be sure that I'll offer the high efficiency, if it is proposed an open environment for the sharing.

Sincerely...
