

Hector R. Flores

Hector Flores was born in El Paso, Texas. He is a Spanish native speaker and speaks both English and Spanish at a professional bilingual level. He graduated from Chaminade University of Hawaii with a A.A Degree in Business Administration. Hector retired from the Justice Department as a Facilities Administrator in 2008, and possesses approximately 24 years experience in interpreting and translating government documents. Hector is a mature Christian man that has served the Lord for more than 24 years in various areas including serving as a Latino Ministries Volunteer Pastor for the Life Church of Memphis and bilingual interpreter at Bellevue Baptist Church. He is an experienced evangelical preacher and bible instructor with more than 15 years experience in simultaneous and consecutive interpretation and translating Christian literature. Hector has worked as a freelance translator for more than 10 years and has also worked as a court interpreter and ESL teacher.