Summary

Experienced English-Afan Oromo and Afan Oromo-English translator and transcriptionist with over 4 years of dedicated service. I have a broad range of expertise in translating and transcribing various materials, including those related to health, marketing, and general documents. I actively contributed to Amazon's AI data training for Afan Oromo language machine translation and took part in the Afan Oromo Natural Language Processing project at Voxcroft Analytics.

My enthusiasm lies in showcasing my native language to produce comprehensive informational content, fostering better understanding, and promoting cultural sensitivity.

As an organized and reliable professional, I am eager to embrace additional responsibilities to contribute towards achieving team goals.
