Profile

I am a student and currently finishing my bachelor's degree in Multilingual Communication with a main emphasis on translation and interpretation in English and French. In the winter term 2023 I will start my masters in Interpretation in English with additional translation and terminology courses. During my studies I was able to become familiar with every facet of translation projects, the use of CAT-Tools as well as the challenges of localizing/translating regarding cultural aspects and customization for specific target groups. During the course of my studies, I learned a lot about my passion for languages and the theoretical background of translating and now I would like to take the chance to develop my skills and master the next step on my way to highly efficient and professional work.
