

Natalino João Amaral

Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy at the La Salette College Seminary

He is a courageous person and eager learning the new challenges by the background of his academic learning and formation process. His punctuality is greater than his own endeavors and his talent is performative. His frailty is manageable and causeless; however, personal dignity is top set for him. He is not easily to quit but grateful to be oriented by the professionals. An analytical and imaginative person. A champion of best practice at the caring manner toward the necessity of others, a facilitator who is organized practically and has the required level of skills and knowledges that needed to make all costumers or clients feel special.
