PROFILE

I am a qualified translator dedicated to facilitating language comprehension in different cultural backgrounds teaching people that there are no barriers in communication. I have five years of experience working as a translator, editor and proofreader for large and small corporations, mostly in the areas of expertise mentioned in the section above. Working as a translator has been an amazing journey for me. I have built a freelance career which allows me to work remotely, travel the world, learn from different cultures, and deliver an outstanding service.
