ABOUT ME

I am a fast and reliable translator specializing in games, websites and marketing topics. I am both an IT and language enthusiast. I have been translating professionally since the end of 2015 and as a hobby for more than a decade. I have studied business, project management, software development, and web & related topics. I am also an avid gamer, traveler, and music fan, those are other areas I am very good at translating. I respond to any inquiry/invitation in a timely matter and can deliver around 2000+ words per day from topics I am familiar with.
